To Our Advertisers—

Do you take your advertising seriously?
Do you conscientiously use every available means to get the utmost in results from your ads?

Advertising is a science—and it is correspondingly true of advertising, as of any other line of endeavor, that in order to obtain the maximum in results it must be done thoroughly and exhaustively.

Hence—

There is more to advertising than the mere publication of certain stipulated facts and prices!

Do you insist that your employees read your ads, that they may familiarize themselves with the specials of the day, and thereby cooperate with your patrons in making their purchases?

Do you clip and post, in conspicuous places in your establishment, your ads, as they appear, to facilitate this?

Do your employees call the attention of your customers to the fact that you advertise for their benefit—suggesting that they would do well to watch for and read your announcements?

Do you extend every courtesy at your command to those who come into your store that they may be impressed with the cordiality of your house, so that when they notice your ads they will stop and read what "The House of Courtesy" has to say?

Advertising, in retail stores, tends to tone-up the entire establishment. It puts the store on record as promising certain definite things—in quality of merchandise, in character of service.

Do you see to it that the dignity accorded your store by advertising is lived up to?

These are a few questions—and a few suggestions, perhaps, that may serve to help our advertisers in deriving every penny's worth of value from the money invested in advertising.

To attain and permanently maintain a profitable business, it is absolutely necessary to lay down certain standards—advertise them—and then live up to them!

He who would by his efforts rise
Must work—and advertise.

THE "AD MAN."

FRANCE DECLARES KAISER TO BLAME FOR FORCING WAR

[By Latest Mail]

LONDON, Aug. 2.—The French embassy in London today issued the following statement:

German troops have invaded Luxembourg. Germany has violated the neutrality of Luxembourg. This neutrality was established by a treaty negotiated and signed in London in April of 1867. Ratifications of this treaty were exchanged in London, May 30, 1867. Article II of it reads as follows: "The grand duchy of Luxembourg will be a state perpetually neutral. The powers which sign the present treaty declare themselves as bound to respect this neutrality and to make it respected by others. This neutrality is placed under the guarantee of the powers which have signed the treaty."

The British ambassador at Berlin asked the German secretary of state for foreign affairs whether Germany was prepared to respect the neutrality of Belgium. The German secretary of state for foreign affairs declared that he was not able to answer. The neutrality of Belgium has been established by a treaty signed in London.

The German ambassador at St. Petersburg notified Russia of the declaration of war by his government when negotiations were pending between Austria-Hungary and Russia and at the very moment when Austria-Hungary had declared that she was prepared to consider the matter of the Austro-Serb conflict with Serbia or with a neutral power on behalf of Serbia.

The German ambassador at Paris yesterday morning had an interview with the French prime minister concerning the Austro-Serb conflict, and especially about the decision reached by Austria-Hungary to consider the matter with Serbia or with a neutral power speaking in behalf of Serbia. In spite of this, on the afternoon of the same day war was declared by Germany on Russia.

France was asked to tell what she would do in case of war between Russia and Germany and the German ambassador at Paris began to prepare everything for his departure from the French capital.

July 31, Germany called to the flag the last five classes of her reservists. This she could do by means of the martial law proclaimed by Germany which permitted her to keep the news secret. Consequently, on July 31, mobilization was going on in Germany.

In spite of this France waited until Aug. 1, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, to order a general mobilization. This was done for the purpose of making clear that she was not the aggressive power, and also that she might be able to claim British support.

General mobilization was ordered in France Aug. 1, at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. The first day of mobilization began Aug. 2 at midnight.

NO LIMIT ON SMOKE IMPORTS FROM ISLANDS

[By Latest Mail]

MANILA, P. I.—Passengers going to the United States may now carry as many cigars and cigarettes as they like along with their personal baggage, according to a United States treasury decision handed down on July 14. A cable from Brigadier-general Frank McIntyre, chief of the bureau of insular affairs in Washington, to the executive bureau, received yesterday, states:

"Referring to telegram from your office of the 20th ultimo treasury decision July 14 authorizes passengers to bring 50 cigars or cheroots or 300 cigarettes free of insular revenue tax and any number additional provided legally packed and internal revenue tax paid."

The privileges of bringing in 50 cigars and 300 cigarettes has been in force for some years. The new ruling permits passengers to bring in amounts greater than these in their baggage provided the necessary internal revenue duties are paid.

When the governor-general and tobacco interests here joined forces several months ago in an effort to extend the trade of the United States in Philippine cigars a United States treasury decision was obtained permitting cigars in small quantities to be sent to the states by mail, as this was believed to be an effective means of advertising the insular tobacco product. Since this concession was secured the matter of obtaining the privilege of carrying cigars and cigarettes in small quantities with personal baggage was taken up with the Washington authorities.
